13. Contraindications for the implementation of an AAI programme

- Patient:
 - The patient is afraid of dogs.
 - The patient shows no interest in the dog (Rossetti & King, 2010).
 - Due to the patient's illness, he or she is unable to interact with the dog in a suitable manner.
 - The patient's medical condition makes it impossible to come into contact with dogs, such as immune deficient patients, patients with open wounds or abscesses or who are allergic to animals (Morrison, 2007).
 - Also consider the risk of spreading antibiotic resistant bacteria. It is possible, for example, to refuse AAI for patients with methicillin-resistant Staphylococcus aureus (MRSA) or Clostridium difficile (Marcus, 2012).
- Healthcare personnel:
 - The healthcare personnel show neither interest nor motivation.
- Environment:
 - The environment is unsuitable for dogs.
